Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The scope of the claims is indefinite. It is not clear if the carrier positioning device is being recited in combination with the vertical blind structure recited in lines 1-18 of the claim or if the carrier positioning device is being recited alone. Initially, the device is said to be "for" a vertical blind structure and the term "adapted" is used when structurally relating the device with structural elements of the blind. This suggests that the subcombination is being recited. However, the "preamble", lines 1-18, recites the structure of the blind in detail and limitations such as the hooks each "engages a respective one of said pin wheels" is a positive recitation of the combination.

For examination purposes, the claims are treated as if the combination is being recited. Consequently, the claims are allowable over the prior art and amendment of the claims to remove the sources of ambiguities such as those discussed above would render the claims allowable.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-5 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.

Conclusion

The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.
